As in every second year, the Austro-British Society Tyrol is pleased to invite you to a Burns Supper.

This highly popular event is a celebration of the life and poetry of Robert Burns (1759-1796), author of many Scots poems including the well-known "Auld Lang Syne".

The supper is held on the poet's birthday, 25 January and contains all the typical items, like haggis (flown in from the UK), Scottish whisky, a bag-piper and the reading of Robert Burns' most famous poems in the Scottish vernacular.
